ANNUAL REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

The Library Book circulation remained about the same as last year, slightly over 5,000, with an average of about 8 books per person. 383 new books were added of which 98 were gifts. This past summer the Library was given a thorough going-over, ceilings and walls painted, bookcases varnished, draperies freshly dyed, etc. In addition the book collection was checked and worn out and out-of-date books discarded. Late this winter over 100 new children's books were purchased and will be placed on display sometime in February 1953. The New Hampshire Library Association conducted a survey of library book resources in the state and we are pleased to report that the quality of our own collection was such as to rate us one of the better small libraries. However, until we are open more than 12 hours per week we cannot qualify as really serving this community adequately. It is a great pity that there is not room to house the Library in our school building where it could be used constantly by our young people and still be perfectly accessible to adult borrowers.

The historical collection continues to grow and was of great value in the writing of the history of the Community Church at its Centennial celebration this past summer. New books have been added on hobbies; entertaining; health problems such as Arthritis, Diabetes, etc.; personal finances, vacation trips as well as new fiction, biography and travel. Mrs. Walter Stanley gave a fine group of books in memory of her husband which included mainly those on the social and political history of our country during the Civil War. Mr. Thayer Nutter has continued to show his interest in the Library by gifts or loans of valuable books.

The Library has cooperated with the Town Hall renovation Committee and the Playground Committee and served as a meeting place for these and other civic groups.

The Librarian attended the State Conference at Exeter, N. H. and the national Special Libraries Convention in New York City. She has served on the Library services committee of the New Hampshire Federation of Women's Clubs. The Library staff have given loyal support to the work of the Library and our young people are fortunate in having them to go to for advice in choosing books and for help with reference problems. The Librarian will always welcome suggestions for new book purchases or for additional services to the community.

Respectfully submitted,
 NELLIE L. PIERCE,
 Librarian.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT REPORT FOR 1952

- 6 Water tests
- 25 Investigations
- 6 Communicable diseases reported

The Town of Enfield has had no bad water tests for the year 1952—Enfield is very fortunate in having good water.

The Enfield dump has functioned very good for the year 1952. Sam Talbert is the man who takes care of the dump. When you take your waste to the dump, help the old gentleman out by putting your waste where he asks you to. His salary is not too big.

REPORT OF THE ENFIELD PLAYGROUND

The supervised playground program was carried on at the Enfield School from July 7 to August 22, five days a week from 9:00 - 11:30 a.m. and from 1:00 - 4:00 p.m. The committee was very fortunate in getting James Brezinski of Lebanon, N. H. to act as supervisor. He was assisted by the Misses Inge Wolff and Carol Cattabriga.

This year a more extensive craft program was offered. Crafts taught included: Indian bead weaving, basketry, leather craft, craftstrip, shoe button craft, glass painting, design and crepe paper craft. Thanks go to Mrs. Ethel Welch for devoting several hours to classes in glass painting and design.

Swimming classes were held at Crescent Beach through the kindness of George Alafat. Approximately fifty children from Enfield and Enfield Center participated in this program. The swimming classes were made possible through the generosity of the Red Cross. The local chapter donated $100 for this purpose. Without this donation it would have been impossible to provide any type of swimming classes.

Baseball was again sponsored with about thirty boys taking part. Four of the Enfield boys played on the Midget All-Star team. Money collected from the local games and All-Star games ($71.80) was placed in the general fund. At the end of the season, 15 uniforms were purchased for the Midget team at a cost of $132.. To help defray the cost of the uniforms, collection boxes were placed in the stores. The amount collected was $38.25. In addition to the above funds, the committee spent $58.10 for baseballs, bats and part payment of uniforms. Transportation for the games was provided through the kindness of Mr. Edgar Robert.

Other activities offered were: basketball, softball, volley-ball, badminton, ball tag and dodgeball. Indoor games included cards, checkers, bingo, etc.

Special activities were planned each week. These included movies, a trip to the Dartmouth Museum, a trip to the Gift Shop and Museum at White River Jct., and a trip to Mount Cardigan.

A field day was planned for the last day of playground, with races, shows, checker play-off and swimming. Prizes were given as well as awards for achievement to those who participated in the planned activities. Although the field day was well publicized by posters made at the playground, few parents attended. This was very disappointing to the children taking part, especially to those receiving special merit awards.

A jungle gym has been purchased and will be set up next year. It is expected that through the help of the American Woolen Co., more swings will be added. It is recommended that the tennis court be repaired and put in use. It is the opinion of the committee that the court will be used once the children are taught to play tennis. A swimming program should be a part of the regular program next year and some provision should be made for getting the Enfield Center children to the playground.

The committee wishes to thank all those who assisted in any way toward making this a successfully supervised program.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

To the School Board and Citizens of Enfield:

I hereby submit my fifth annual report as your superintendent of schools.

Many people, parents, citizens and taxpayers, are becoming more and more interested and concerned about their public schools. There is little question but what the costs of public schools have been rising and may continue to rise, not only in Enfield but all over the country. What people forget is that everything else, as well as schools, costs more than it did. Then we have people who think the schools are too progressive and others who think they are not progressive enough. Actually we try to take the middle road in the Enfield Schools. However, all this talk and interest about the schools is a healthy sign and eventually will lead to improved education. Fortunately, we are still living in a democracy and in the end the people will have the kind of schools they want and are willing to pay for.

Teachers and Teaching

Our experienced, capable elementary school faculty remains with us another year. We are indeed fortunate to have this situation exist because the shortage of elementary teachers throughout the nation becomes more serious each year. The class size in the elementary school remains quite high but nothing can be done about this unless more space becomes available. We generally believe today that elementary classes should not be larger than 30 pupils and grades one and two not larger than 25 pupils. All of the elementary rooms have over 30 pupils, the total in one of them being actually 39. With these large numbers it simply means that each individual pupil does not receive as much time and attention from the teacher as he should.

There were three changes in the high school faculty, but in every case we were able to obtain experienced, capable replacements. It is my personal opinion that our present high school faculty is the strongest we have had in many years. This small faculty carries on a rather extensive program with the result that most of the teachers carry a heavy load of regular subjects plus all their extra-curricular activities. A better program, a better schedule, and more satisfied teachers would result if we could add one more teacher to the high school faculty. There would be no point in doing this at the present time because there would be no space in which the teacher could carry on her teaching duties.

As has been the custom for several years we are continuing with the plan whereby the first grade teacher continues on as second grade teacher with the same pupils. In their early, and very important years, this allows the teacher to have two years in which to understand, diagnose and work with each pupil so that he or she can get a good start in their educational program. We are also continuing with our study of the social studies program in the elementary grades to determine to what extent it is advisable to adjust to the program suggested by the State Department of Education a year ago. The Zaner-Bloser Handwriting System has been introduced into the first six grades. This should serve to unify the procedures used in developing this art and lead to general improvement. Mrs. Rena Horton resigned as art teacher to resume her studies at college. We replaced her with Mrs. Alice Bradbury who had to resign at mid-year because of ill health. Mrs. Jane MacGinnis took up the work in art for the last term.

Building and Repairs

We are continuing our program of improving some small part of the building each year. In time we expect to paint all of the inside and do over all the floors. There are several floors which are still in very poor condition and should be redone as soon as money is available. If possible, we try to put new desks and chairs in one room each year.

The drainage system in the rear of the building has been nearly completed through the cooperation of the local road agent and state highway department. The play yard has been leveled and now needs to be seeded and rolled.

The big problem at Enfield is the lack of adequate space in which to carry out the manifold activities of a present day program of education. Many people in Enfield have realized this and various solutions have been investigated and proposed over the years since the end of the Second World War. One of these proposals for an addition was made at the last school district meeting but was voted down. At the same meeting the school board was authorized to investigate the possibilities of sending the high school pupils to Lebanon. The Enfield School board carried out this mandate and found that Lebanon could accept Enfield pupils for only a couple of years and would then have to refuse them unless an addition was made to the Lebanon building.

At the town meeting last March a committee was established to revamp Whitney Hall so that it would be safe and suitable for basketball and other activities. After careful investigation the committee reported that Whitney Hall could not be made suitable and safe for basketball. This town committee was then joined with the school board and enlarged for the purpose of considering a new community building which could be used for basketball, school lunch, plays, assemblies, club meetings, dances, public meetings and all the other varied purposes for which a town like Enfield might need a place to carry out community functions. This committee divided up into many sub-groups covering the various phases of the problem and has worked hard over many months to arrive at a solution which would take care of the absolutely minimum needs and still be within the ability of the town of Enfield to pay for it. Their report will be made at the school district meeting in March and articles covering their recommendations will be in the warrant.

Financial

School costs have been going steadily up in Enfield over the past few years. The same thing is true all over the nation. The people who pay the tax bill have a right to ask why this is so. Of course one simple answer is that ever since World War II the prices of all the commodities we buy for the school have been steadily going up. The largest part of the school budget is devoted to salaries. Each year the school board has granted a modest increase to the teachers but even now our minimum salary of $2400 will be at least two hundred dollars less than the graduates of the Teacher's Colleges will be getting next June. The shortage of elementary teachers, and in some fields of high school teachers, is simply forcing the price up. The nation over we still do not produce enough teachers to take care of the older teachers who are dying off or leaving the profession. In addition the birth rates continue to grow. More children were born last year, in the United States, than any other year in its history.

Another large item in the budget is the cost of transportation. According to law every elementary child who lives more than two miles from school must be transported. In some cases we pick up children who are less than two miles from school but only if there is available space and it is done at no extra expense to the school district. All of our contracts for transportation have been negotiated at reasonable figures. This year we had two additions to our regular routes created by an overloaded situation at Enfield Center and a child whose health, according to a doctor's certificate, required that she be picked up at her door.

The local property owner has an understandable worry about the constant increases which occur in his tax bill. The property tax is an outmoded form of tax to bear practically the whole brunt of the tax bill as it does in this state. The only hope for towns like Enfield seems to lie in an increase in the amount of money provided for public education by the state. The State Board of Education is asking that the amount of state aid be doubled. The Governor is recommending that state aid to education be increased by 50%. If the past is any indication of what may happen in the future, we will be lucky to receive the same amount in state aid that we did this year.

For the first time this year the school board and teachers have been covered by liability insurance. This is to protect them if suit was brought against the individuals concerned for an accident which occurred at school, and is not in any sense accident insurance. We have investigated the possibilities of buying accident insurance for the pupils and found that the Attorney General has ruled that such an expenditure would be illegal. At present all pupils participating in athletics are required to take out, at their own expense, an insurance provided by the New England Association of Secondary School Principals.

With the closing of the Goss School last June the pupils from this area became tuition pupils at Enfield. This added substantially to our income but the total we anticipated was somewhat reduced when the Bill family moved to Enfield after the fire.

General

This fall the school board instituted the idea of having an open meeting of the school board at which time citizens could present suggestions for changes in the next year's budget. This meeting was held in November because at this time the school board has to begin considering and setting up the budget for the next school year which must be presented to the town budget committee the latter part of January or the first of February.

The Commissioner of Education, in conjunction with superintendents and school board members, is preparing a revision of supervisory unions for the state. Under the currently proposed plan Enfield would be transferred to the Lebanon supervisory union which would become a large union with an extra assistant superintendent of schools. At a meeting held at Lebanon in December it was quite evident that Lebanon itself was not interested in any such change. However, some reorganization may be advisable to relieve the inequities which now exist. At present we have the largest number of teachers in this supervisory union of any in the state and even more than several of the cities. Some of the supervisory unions have less than half as many teachers as there are in this one. At present this supervisory union consists of Hanover, Enfield, Orford and Lyme.

Your Parent-Teacher Association deserves a lot of credit for the excellent programs which it has been producing this year. Its efforts to create better relations and understanding between the parents and teachers should lead to a better education for boys and girls. Your school board has worked long and painstakingly on the school problem at Enfield putting in many hours of work besides the time they spend at school board meetings. They have taken a real and sincere interest in the many problems which have developed and have in every case made fair decisions based upon the evidence available. Your janitor has kept the building warm and presentable. Many people have commented upon the improved condition of the floors.

This has been a good school year. Our teaching staff has been very satisfactory and they are to be commended for their interest in the individual pupils and their willingness to do many things above and beyond the regular call of duty. To them and all the others who have worked for our public schools, I want to extend my sincere thanks for their assistance in producing good schools for Enfield.

Respectfully submitted,

HOWARD F. MASON
Superintendent of Schools.
